How do people celebrate birthdays? Birthdays are special days when we celebrate being born. People celebrate in different ways. Some have parties with friends and family. There's often a birthday cake with candles. When we blow out the candles, we make a wish. Gifts are also part of the celebration. Friends give presents to make the birthday person happy. Sometimes, people go out for a meal or do fun activities. Birthday cards with good wishes are common, too. It's a day to feel special and loved. Everyone has their way of celebrating, making each birthday unique and memorable.
